

Welcome to Divine

Divine Flowers is the collaboration of high-quality Dutch carnation growers. Since 2017, "Kwekerij Martin Zwinkels" and "Kwekerij Nieuwland" have been working together to cultivate a broad and distinctive range of approximately 140 exclusive standard and spray carnations. With popular varieties such as Maruchi, Antartica, and various other exclusive standard and spray carnations, Divine Flowers supplies carnations of consistently top quality, featuring sturdy stems, large flowers and a long vase life.

The name Divine Flowers is derived from the botanical name Dianthus, which means "flower of God". This name reflects the passion and care with which the growers cultivate their flowers. The carnations of Divine Flowers receive a post-harvest treatment and therefore remain fresh for up to five days longer than untreated carnations, ensuring that florists and wholesalers can rely on products that stay beautiful for longer. In addition to quality, Divine Flowers stands for innovation and customer focus. With short delivery times and reliable logistics, the company supports its customers and ensures that every order becomes a positive experience.

As a member of Decorum, Divine Flowers presents its carnations under the premium quality label. In this way, the extensive experience and expertise of the growers come together with the recognisability and reliability of Decorum, ensuring that customers are always assured of beautiful, high-quality carnations.
